

What is Farm to Early Care and Education (ECE)?

Farm to ECE is an initiative to increase access to fresh, local foods for young children by bringing:

What are the benefits of Farm to ECE for farmers and food producers?

A New Market. Child care programs that are committed to serving fresh, local foods will be consistent customers.

Flexible and Direct Sales. Early childhood programs can vary in size and structure, making the process more flexible for farmers and teachers.

Connection with Community. By partnering with early childhood programs, you will find more connections in the community that will support your work even further.

Want to learn more?

Scan the QR code and visit our website!

How can I support child care providers in serving fresh local produce?

Find your audience. Reach out to child care programs and schools near you to sell your produce.

Share your mission. Help a program near you by visiting and sharing about the importance of buying local!

Show your support to early childhood educators. They play a large role in the wellness of young children!

We are here to help you in sharing your produce with Alabama's children.

Reach out to alabamafarmtoece@apcteam.org to get connected to child care programs near you.

